

Gordon S. Holder, Senior Vice President, Booz Allen Hamilton

A Booz Allen Hamilton Senior Vice President, Gordon Holder supports defense logistics initiatives for clients that include the Office of Secretary of Defense/Joint Staff, Regional Combatant Commands, Defense Logistics Agency, U.S. Transportation Command, Joint Forces Command, and U.S. Navy and Marine Corps logistics organizations. Mr. Holder is the Officer in Charge of the U.S. Marine Corps account for the firm.

Mr. Holder is a leader in the firm's Supply Chain & Logistics team, which supports the Joint Combatant Command and Marine Corps market. In this role, the team is at the forefront of all activities, analysis, and processes necessary to identify and create new capabilities and operational constructs to support war-fighting efforts.

Mr. Holder served more than 36 years in the U.S. Navy, retiring as a Vice Admiral in 2004. With his Navy Surface Warfare experience, he is a regular collaborator with the firm's Navy Marine Corps team in pursuit of business across the maritime domain.

Significant Navy flag positions were Commander Naval Base Pearl Harbor and commander Naval Surface Group Middle Pacific; Command of Amphibious Group II in Norfolk, VA; Command of Military Sealift Command in Washington, D.C., where he was responsible for all civilian-operated ships for the Navy and U.S. Transportation command and directed worldwide operations of over 200 ships with an annual budget of $2 billion.

Mr. Holder earned an M.S. degree in psychology from Troy State University, an undergraduate degree in music education from Florida State University, and attended the Air Command and Staff College at Maxwell AFB.
